Further observations

In accordance with Article 20(2) of REACH, the completeness check ascertains that all the elements required have been provided. However, this check does not include an assessment of the quality or adequacy of data provided. Such an assessment may occur later in a compliance check.

Also the verification of the eligibility for any claimed fee reductions (for example such resulting from the declared company size) is not part of the completeness check, but it may follow at any time in accordance with Article 13(3) of Fee Regulation (EC) No 340/2008.

In accordance with Article 22(1) of REACH, registrants are on their own initiative required to update their registrations without undue delay with relevant new information (for instance, change in status, substance composition or quantities).

ECHA does not take into account dossier updates after it has notified you of a draft decision under Article 50(1) of REACH, including any changes in the annual or total quantities manufactured or imported (Article 22(1)(c)). Regardless of this decision concerning your update, you still have the obligation to fully comply with obligations resulting from such ongoing regulatory activities and final decisions under articles 40, 41 or 46.

Certain information from this registration dossier will be published without further notice at https://echa.europa.eu/information-on-chemicals.
